

Voya Large Cap Growth SMA - Traditional Delivery

Strategy-at-a-glance

Objective ¹	To outperform the Russell 1000 Growth Index over full market cycles
Team Inception Date	05/01/04
Benchmark	Russell 1000 Growth Index

¹ There is no guarantee that this objective will be achieved.

Strategy overview

The Large Cap Growth strategy seeks to outperform its benchmark over a full market cycle via an actively managed approach relying on fundamental research and analysis to identify companies with strong and accelerating business momentum, increasing market acceptance and attractive valuations.

Investment philosophy

We believe consistent and durable alpha is best achieved over the long term via a sector-neutral, research-centric investment process with a fully integrated fundamental and quantitative approach at its core.

Our key beliefs:

- A differentiated point of view is required for successful active growth investing
- Understanding expectations is key
- Everything is relative: valuations and fundamentals should be considered in a relative framework

Investment process

Our disciplined, bottom-up investment process focuses on high-conviction stock selection. The process begins with identifying a universe of large cap stocks with market capitalizations > $2 billion. Next, a quantitative evaluation ranks the investment universe and identifies the most attractive stocks within each sector. Once the universe is ranked, the analysts concentrate their efforts on the highest ranked stocks within their sector to add insight through in-depth fundamental research and analysis. Buy and sell decisions are mainly the product of qualitative judgments about business momentum, market recognition, and valuation, as well as the attractiveness of each stock, given benchmark weight, expected return, and perceived risk.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The Composite performance information represents the investment results of a group of fully discretionary accounts managed with the investment objective of outperforming the benchmark. Gross returns are presented after all transaction costs, but before management fees. Net-of-fees returns presented are calculated by subtracting a hypothetical maximum total wrap fee (estimated at 3.00% per annum) from the monthly gross-of-fees returns. The total wrap fee includes transaction costs, portfolio management, investment advisory, custodial and other administrative costs. Wrap fees vary amongst brokerage firms and may be negotiated based on account size and other factors.

The principal risks are generally those attributable to stock investing. Holdings are subject to market, issuer and other risks, and their values may fluctuate. Market risk is the risk that securities may decline in value due to factors affecting the securities markets or particular industries. Issuer risk is the risk that the value of a security may decline for reasons specific to the issuer, such as changes in its financial condition. More particularly, growth-oriented stocks typically sell at higher valuations than other stocks. If a growth-oriented stock does not exhibit the level of growth expected, its price may drop sharply. Additionally, growth-oriented stocks have been more volatile than value-oriented stocks.

The strategy employs a quantitative model to execute the strategy. Data imprecision, software or other technology malfunctions, programming inaccuracies and similar circumstances may impair the performance of these systems, which may negatively affect performance. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that the quantitative models used in managing the strategy will perform as anticipated or enable the strategy to achieve its objective.
